The Course

Getting the best from people is a complex and difficult task. It is also the key to running a successful team or department.

The use of competencies can be of great help in understanding behaviour and ensuring that the right people are in the right jobs and the right techniques are used to motivate them. This seminar will show you how to achieve this.

Competencies can be key elements in the following applications:

- The management of values –“walking the talk”
- Leadership development
- Selection criteria and methods
- Talent management and career planning
- Succession planning
- Performance management
- Assessment
- Employee development

The programme will discuss and establish the opportunities for the use of competencies and provide some ideas for the range of applications. This seminar will build the case for using competencies and show how to develop and apply a competency framework.

The Goals

Participants will learn how to:

- Define a competency and understand the distinction between competencies, skills and tasks
- Describe how to use competencies in public and private organisations
- Differentiate between Leadership competencies, Technical competencies and Behavioural competencies
- Link competencies to organisational objectives and values – manage not only what staff do but how they do it
- Use competencies for recruitment and assessment; for development; for talent management; for performance management and for succession planning

The Delegates

- Those who are responsible for managing or supervising any type of person, group or team (especially in an organisation using competencies)
- Those who want to learn the skills involved in improving relations at work, improving productivity or improving behaviour at work
- HR, ER and Personnel professionals who are responsible for the design and delivery of competency-based HR programmes

The Benefits

The seminar will be of value to anyone with an interest in the management of people and/or with an involvement in the introduction or maintenance of a competency framework.

It will be of interest to those who wish to learn about competencies for the first time and those who wish to refresh established knowledge.

As a result of attending the course, a delegate will be able to assist his/her organisation to gain the advantages that come from using competencies.

The Results

This seminar is designed to help the organisation understand the advantages that can be gained from the use of competencies.

The result of sending delegates will be that the organisation will be able to improve the effectiveness of their systems in the critical areas of HR policy.

The importance of getting the best from people can never be underestimated and this programme will help organisations get the policies right.

The Scandinavian Academy for Training and Development adopts the latest scientific and professional methodologies in training and human resource development, aiming to enhance the efficiency of individuals and organizations. Training programs are delivered through a comprehensive approach that includes:

- Theoretical lectures supported by PowerPoint presentations and visual materials (videos and short films).
- Scientific evaluation of participants before and after the program to measure progress and knowledge acquisition.
- Brainstorming sessions and practical role-playing to simulate real-life scenarios.
- Case studies tailored to align with the training content and participants work nature.
- Assessment tests conducted at the end of the program to evaluate the achievement of training objectives.

Each participant receives the training material (both theoretical and practical) in printed form and saved on a CD or flash drive. Detailed reports, including attendance records, final results, and overall program evaluations, are also provided.

Training materials are prepared professionally by a team of experts and specialists in various fields. At the end of the program, participants are awarded a professional attendance certificate, signed and accredited by the Scandinavian Academy for Training and Development.
