Introduction

Many middle professionals have a wealth of experience at handling day to day management issues and are now ready for a bigger challenge. Are there extra skills they need to acquire to prepare them for the next level of leadership? This programme is about exploring and mastering those skills and knowledge that will comfortably take you to the next level of competence – from professional to leader.

It will give you a real insight into what drives individual behaviour, how to pinpoint the cultural style of your organisation and understand its inherent cultural strengths and weaknesses. We'll explore team dynamics in the context of the culture, look at functional and dysfunctional behaviour and how dysfunctional behaviour can be reshaped. We'll explore how easy it is for the leader to unwittingly set people up for failure and how this can be avoided. We'll investigate motivation, reward and getting the best from the team.

Finally you will spend time planning action what you want to change when you return to your workplace.

- Make the transition from management to leadership
- Learn the tools of influence
- Understand behaviours at work
- Explore corporate culture
- Learn to lead and motivate your team

Objectives

By the end of this programme participants will have learned to make the transition from professional to leader by:

- Ensuring that you have all the core skills of effective management and leadership
- Understanding what drives individual behaviour and how to motivate and reward excellence
- Truly understanding the culture of your organisation
- Exploring team dynamics and discovering your own preferred team roles
- Having a framework for implementing successful change programmes

Training Methodology

We use a variety of accelerated learning techniques to help to embed learning and enhance recall where it really counts – back in the workplace. Any theory discussed will be grounded immediately in practical day to day work. Methods will include “freeze-frame” role plays, case studies and self-assessments, and other practical activities based around real working scenarios.. Learning will be enhanced through active involvement in exercises followed by review. Opportunities for self assessment will be provided and feedback on individual and group performance will be encouraged. Participants will have opportunities to work on their own individual team issues during the programme

Organisational Impact

The organisation will benefit from having middle managers who are:

- Motivated and confident to move up to the next level
- Able to avoid common pitfalls at the more senior level through greater understanding of corporate culture

- Equipped to make a significant contribution to moving the organisation in desired directions and steer teams through complex situations
- Thinking and acting like leaders

Personal Impact

Participants will:

- Gain new insights into their preferred leadership style and learn how to be flexible in both leadership and management
- Be able to “read” behaviour and use that understanding in creating a motivating environment for their staff
- Understand their own and others’ preferred team roles
- Be able to influence upwards in the organisation with confidence
- Be able to plan and lead change
